

The Fourth International Conference on Construction Grammar (ICCG4)
September 1-3, 2006
University of Tokyo, Japan

List of Presentations --- as of August 3, 2006

--- Plenary Lectures ---

- Collin BAKER (International Computer Science Institute)
Frame Semantics in Operation: The FrameNet Lexicon and Text Understanding
- Charles J. FILLMORE (International Computer Science Institute & University of California at Berkeley)
Articulating Lexicon and Constructicon
- Adele GOLDBERG (Princeton University)
Constructions and the nature of generalization
- Yukio HIROSE (University of Tsukuba)
The Conceptual Basis for Reflexive Constructions in Japanese
- Knud LAMBRECHT (University of Texas at Austin)
Syntactic Amalgams Re-revisited: Apokoinou Constructions in Spoken English
- Yo MATSUMOTO (Kobe University)
Constraints on the cooccurrence of spatial and metaphorical paths in English: A closer look at the Unique Path Constraint
- Jan-Ola ÖSTMAN (University of Helsinki)
Accountability in (Construction) Grammar
- Masayoshi SHIBATANI (Rice University & Kobe University)
Grammaticalization of complex predicate constructions
- Michael TOMASELLO (Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology)
Constructing a language

--- Oral Presentations ---

- Susana AFONSO (University of Manchester)
Existentials as impersonalising devices: the case of European Portuguese
- Hiroimitsu AKASHI (University of Tsukuba)
Semantic Compatibility between Caused-Motion Verbs and the Ditransitive Construction
- Jóhanna BAR_DAL (University of Bergen)
Constructional choices of new verbs of instrument of communication
- Heike BEHRENS (University of Basel)
Discovering the middle field: The acquisition of discontinuous word order in German

- Benjamin BERGEN & Kathryn WHEELER (University of Hawaii at Manoa)
Aspectual constructions modulate mental simulation
- Sturla BERG-OLSEN (University of Oslo)
Lacking in Latvian – case variation from a construction grammar perspective
- Hans C. BOAS (University of Texas at Austin)
The syntax and semantics of constructional families
- Daniela CALUIANU (Otaru University of Commerce)
The Expletive Object Construction in Romanian
- Nancy CHANG & Eva H. MOK (University of California at Berkeley & International Computer Science Institute)
Putting Context in Constructions
- Jidong CHEN (Max Planck institute for Psycholinguistics)
“He cut-break the rope”: A semantic and syntactic analysis of the resultative verb constructions in Mandarin Chinese
- Shu-mei CHIANG & Huei-ling LAI (National Chengchi University)
A Family of NP₁ V NP₂ m¹¹ X Constructions in Hakka
- Kenneth William COOK (Hawaii Pacific University)
Nominal Predication via Juxtaposition in Hawaiian
- Caroline V. DAVID (University of Montpellier III)
Why you can put somebody to sleep but not to the floor: the interaction of put and some of its prepositions
- Henri-José DEULOFEU (Université de Provence)
On the limit between constructions and discourse patterns : the case of [il y a indef NP que X] construct in spoken french
- Michael ELLSWORTH, Kyoko OHARA, Carlos SUBIRATS, & Thomas SCHMIDT (International Computer Science Institute, Keio University, & Autonomous University of Barcelona)
Frame-semantic analysis of motion scenarios in English, German, Spanish, and Japanese
- Tomoko ENDO (University of California at Los Angeles)
The Pa ‘Fear’ Constructions in Mandarin Chinese: Epistemicity with a Suppressed Experiencer
- Olga V. FEDOROVA (Moscow State University)
Syntactic priming of possessive constructions in Russian adults, children and English-Russian bilinguals: Evidence for Tuning-hypothesis
- Mirjam FRIED (Princeton University)
Constructional properties of a text-cohesion marker in spoken Czech
- Francisco GONZÁLVEZ-GARCÍA (University of Almería)
A constructionist reappraisal of interpersonal manipulation: Evidence from secondary predication in English and Spanish

- Stefan Th. GRIES (University of California at Santa Barbara)
Corpus data in usage-based linguistics: What's the right degree of granularity for the analysis of argument structure constructions?
- Tomoko Okazaki HANSEN (University of Oslo)
The Constructional Polysemy of Ditransitive Constructions in Japanese
- Yoko HASEGAWA, Kyoko Hirose OHARA, Russell LEE-GOLDMAN, & Charles J. FILLMORE (University of California at Berkeley, Keio University, & International Computer Science Institute)
Frame Integration, Head Switching, and Translation: RISK in English and Japanese
- Willem B. HOLLMANN & Anna SIEWIERSKA (Lancaster University)
The role of frequency in sociolinguistic perspective
- Fuhui HSIEH (National Taiwan University)
The si-construction in Saisiyat: Window Connecting the World and the Mind
- Shin-ya IWASAKI (Osaka University)
On Cognate Object Constructions in English: A Construction Grammar Perspective
- Shoichi IWASAKI (International Christian University & University of California at Los Angeles)
A “multiple-grammar” view and the passive construction in Japanese
- Seizi IWATA (Osaka City University)
Where there's a sound, there's motion: Two types of path PPs that appear after verbs of sound emission
- Kim Ebensgaard JENSEN (University of Southern Denmark)
A family of body-based aspect constructions in Danish
- Rocío JIMÉNEZ BRIONES (Universidad Autónoma de Madrid)
The Lexical Grammar Model: how to integrate Construction Grammar into a lexico-functional approach to language
- Jong-Bok KIM (Kyung Hee University)
Three Types of Relative Clause Constructions: A Construction-Based Approach
- Hiroaki KOGA (University of Tokyo)
The semantics, syntax, and pragmatics of inverse constructions in Japanese
- Lari KOTILAINEN (University of Helsinki)
At the mercy of variation: On formalizing constructions based on non-standard language corpora
- Kristian Emil KRISTOFFERSEN (University of Oslo)
Unique object control in Old Norse – a constructional approach
- Chigusa KURUMADA & Seiko FUJII (University of Tokyo)
Constructing storylines: A constructional approach to the structure and development of narratives
- Huei-ling LAI (National Chengchi University)
Lien¹¹ ...ya⁵⁵/du⁵⁵ constructions in Hakka

- Christine LAMARRE (University of Tokyo)
Chinese Path Resultatives: a Variationist Approach
- Russell LEE-GOLDMAN (University of California at Berkeley)
Rhetorical questions and scalar implicature: what do you think constructions are for?
- Jaakko LEINO (University of Helsinki)
Construction Grammar and dialect syntax
- Jianguo LI (Ohio State University)
Subject-Oriented Resultative Compound Verbs (RCV) in Chinese
- Chinfa LIEN (National Tsing Hua University)
Approximatives in Taiwanese Southern Min
- Anne Daphne M. LINDAYA & Ai NOMURA (University of the Philippines at Diliman & Tokyo University of Foreign Studies)
Tagalog pa- causatives and Philippine transitivity
- Yoshiko MATSUMOTO (Stanford University)
Juxtaposition and integration of frames in Japanese noun-modifying constructions
- Vanessa MICELLI, Robert PORZEL, & Aldo GANGEMI (European Media Laboratory & Institute of Cognitive Sciences and Technologies of the National Research Council)
ECToloG: Construction Grammar Meets the Semantic Web
- Inger MOEN & Marte MYHRUM (University of Oslo & Rikshospitalet)
Speech recognition in noise: the influence of structures and frequency
- Stefan MÜLLER (Universität Potsdam)
Persian Complex Predicates
- Bhuvana NARASIMHAN, Anetta KOPECKA, & Asil OZYUREK (Max Planck Institute for Psycholinguistics)
Crosslinguistic variation in motion event encoding: do constructions play a role?
- Bracha NIR-SAGIV (Tel-Aviv University)
Multi-Clausal Constructions: Preferred Syntactic Architectures in Narrative Text Production
- Yoshihiro NISHIMITSU (Kobe University)
Why are there two kinds of direct speech acts?
- Kyoko Hirose OHARA, Seiko FUJII, Toshio OHORI, Ryoko SUZUKI, Hiroaki SAITO, & Shun ISHIZAKI (Keio University & University of Tokyo)
Frame-based Contrastive Lexical Semantics and Japanese FrameNet
- Tsuyoshi ONO (University of Alberta)
Constituent Order as a Construction: A Discourse-based Approach
- David Y. OSHIMA (Stanford University)
Subject-oriented adverbs and related constructions: One meaning, different packages

- Jeong-Woon PARK (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies)
Some Korean Causative Verbs Not Increasing Valence: A Case of Construction-Level Backformation
- Doris L. PAYNE (University of Oregon)
Lexical vs. Constructional properties of Maa tii ‘be at’ and ata ‘have’
- Michaela POSS (Leiden University Center for Linguistics)
Ditransitive Constructions and Dative Alternations from a cross-linguistic perspective: The case of Dutch, English, and German
- Jouni ROSTILA (University of Tampere)
Grammaticalization and Construction Grammar(s)
- Francisco José RUIZ DE MENDOZA & Ricardo MAIRAL (University of La Rioja & National Distance Education University)
Grounding lexical and constructional representations in metaphor and metonymy
- Heete SAHKAI (Institute of the Estonian Language & Tallinn University)
Construction-driven phrase structure: the Estonian Genitive Agent Construction
- Chie SAKUTA & Seiko FUJII (University of Tokyo)
Intonation units, information structure, and grammatical constructions in Japanese and English
- Osamu SAWADA (University of Chicago)
Scalarity and the Rhetorical Negative Constructions
- Sergey SAY (Institute for linguistic research of the Russian Academy of Sciences)
Non-contextual verbless sentences in Russian: against ellipsis
- Kim SCHULTE (University of Exeter & Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology)
What makes a construction ‘attractive’? – A comparative Romance case study of constructional expansion
- Hanne Gram SIMONSEN, Inger MOEN, & Marianne LIND (University of Oslo & Bredvet Resource Centre)
Syntactic frames and slot fillers in the speech of a Norwegian patient with fluent aphasia
- Luc STEELS, Joachim DE BEULE, & Remi VAN TRIJP (University of Brussels & Sony Computer Science Lab)
Introducing Fluid Construction Grammar
- Tatiana I. STEKSOVA (State Pedagogical University)
Syntactic tautological phrasemes in Russian
- Lily I. SU & Rachel HSIAO (National Taiwan University)
Emotion Events in Mandarin Emotion Constructions
- Karen SULLIVAN (University of California at Berkeley)
Constituency in if and when conditional constructions
- Hidemitsu TAKAHASHI (Hokkaido University)
Constructions in Fusion and in Clash: Imperatives in Adverbial Clauses

- Kiyoko TAKAHASHI (Kanda University of International Studies)
A Two-Dimensional Classification of Complex Events Represented by Basic Serial Verb Constructions
- Kingkarn THEPKANJANA (Chulalongkorn University)
The Constructional Status of Serial Verb Constructions in Thai
- Ellen Hellebostad TOFT (University of Oslo)
The possessive genitive in Old Norse from a construction grammar perspective
- I-Ni TSAI (University of California at Los Angeles)
Feeling Verbs and Their Argument Structures: A Corpus-Based Approach
- Natsuko TSUJIMURA (Indiana University)
A Construction-Based Approach to Phrasal Postpositions in Japanese
- Masanobu UEDA (Fukuoka Jogakuin University Junior College)
On The Japanese Commercial Transaction Frame: How Culture-Specific Information Fits into a Semantic Frame
- Arie VERHAGEN (Leiden University Centre for Linguistics)
The notion of 'form' in construction grammar and the theory of signs - the role of paradigms
- Hunter WEILBACHER & Hans C. BOAS (University of Texas at Austin)
Just because two constructions look alike in two languages doesn't mean that they share the same properties: Towards contrastive Construction Grammars
- Yu-ting YANG (National Chengchi University)
Variations of Resultative CHU 出 Construction in Mandarin Chinese
- Nina Azumi YOSHIDA (University of California at Los Angeles)
Modal Nominalized Predicate Constructions in Japanese

--- Posters ---

- Olga BLANCO-CARRION (Universidad de Cordoba)
Cognition from the perspective of Frame Semantics and Construction Grammar
- Aoju CHEN & Bhuvana NARASIMHAN (Max Planck Institute for Psycholinguistics)
WH-question constructions in Dutch: the role of intonation and information structure
- Hanne Martine ECKHOFF (University of Oslo)
Overlaps in conceptual space: Old Church Slavic possessives
- Yoko FUJII (Japan Women's University)
Covert objects in the semantic frames of verbs of "break" in Japanese and English and the typological implications
- Naoko HAYASE (Osaka University of Foreign Studies)
How Predicative Adjective Adjuncts are Motivated: On the Emergence and Extension of a New Copulative Construction
- Kent HILL (Sophia University)
Constructing Future Tense and Perfect Aspect

- HUANG Su-miao (National Cheng Kung University)
Grammaticalization of Modern Chinese Language - Based on The Directional Complements "shang" (up), "xia" (down), "qi" (rise) and "chu" (out)
- Masaru KANETANI (University of Tsukuba)
Inheritance Links as the Central Role in Understanding Constructions: A Case of Constructions of Metalinguistic Reasons
- Ruetaivan KESSAKUL (Chulalongkorn University)
From Motion to Resultatives and Potentiality: A close look at constructional polysemy in Thai
- Miyuki KOJIMA (University of Tokyo)
Hortative use of GIVE construction in Mandarin Chinese
- Hiroaki KONNO (University of Tsukuba)
On the Form/Meaning Correspondence in the Japanese Nani-o X-o Construction
- Ritva LAURY & Ryoko SUZUKI (University of Helsinki & Keio University)
The use of morphemes as pragmatic particles and complementizers in Finnish and Japanese -- a crosslinguistic comparison
- Miho MANO (Kobe University)
Functional typological approach to Japanese non-canonical constructions
- Noriko MATSUMOTO (Doshisha Women's College of Liberal Arts)
Recapturing Double-Verb Constructions: The Case of Go
- Keiko NAKAMOTO, Jae-ho LEE, & Kow KURODA (Bunkyo University & National Institute of Information and Communications Technology)
Constructional meaning affects preferred word order of a Japanese sentence: Psycholinguistic experiments on caused motion and possession constructions
- Naoki OTANI (Kyoto University)
A Corpus-Based Approach to Come Out Construction
- Yoshikata SHIBUYA (National Institute of Information and Communications Technology)
A constructional approach to synaesthesia
- Mari SIIROINEN (University of Helsinki)
Perspective and nearly synonymous complement constructions in Finnish
- Hideyuki SUGIURA (Shukutoku Junior and Senior High School & University of Alberta)
What Frequency Tells Us about the Choice of Japanese Adnominal Constructions
- Kozue TAKUBO (State University of New York at Buffalo)
The use and function of the nominal plural in Japanese
- Napasri TIMYAM (Kasetsart University)
The relation between distribution and meaning: The case of datives and ditransitives in Thai